INTRODUCTION

This manual is intended for the use of Aerospace Medical Association (Association) members and any other parties interested in a concise, current and complete guide to the organizational policies and operational procedures of the Association. Organizational policies are statements of intentions: the ‘what’ and ‘why’ of the Association. Operational procedures are the specific methods to pursue those desires: the ‘who’, ‘how’, ‘where’, and ‘when’ of the Association’s members. This manual is designed to explain both and to be a dynamic and easily amended document that provides a “Users Guide to the Association”.

While the manual is intended for easy access and understanding of Association functioning for all, it should be particularly useful to any of those who hold a position of responsibility within the Association (whether in an elected, appointed or volunteer position). It is the responsibility of each Association member to review the contents of the manual. It is essential that each member entrusted with Association business understand and contribute to the manual. It is also a resource for any non-member individuals or organizations with an interest in Association matters.

The organizational policies referred to in this manual do not include Association positions on legislative, regulatory or scientific matters: the organizational policies are intended to define the Association’s intent. Association operational procedures are intended to ensure the efficient and effective functioning of the Association and facilitate its development of positions pertaining to questions of aviation, space and environmental medicine generally.

The manual seeks to conform to all ethical and legal standards applicable to its area of interest. Amendments or suggestions for improvement are welcome from all sources and should be directed as defined within the manual.

The Executive Director maintains a separate policies and procedure manual governing the operations of the HQ office at the Association headquarters in Alexandria, VA. Access to that manual is available upon request.
HISTORY AND STATUS

The Aerospace Medical Association (Association) was founded in 1929 under the guidance of Louis H. Bauer, M.D., the first medical director of the Aeronautics Branch of the Department of Commerce (which later became the Federal Aviation Administration - FAA). Dr. Bauer and his associates dedicated themselves and the new Association to the "dissemination of information as will enhance the accuracy of their specialized art, thereby affording a greater guarantee of safety to the public and the pilot, alike; and to cooperate in furthering the progress of aeronautics in the United States." From the 1929 organizational meeting of 29 "aeromedical examiners," the Association has grown to its current stature with membership consisting of aviation medical examiners/flight surgeons, flight nurses, scientists, aerospace physiologists, biomedical and human factors engineers, psychologists, and allied health care specialists from over 70 nations. It has extended its area of interest to related environmental disciplines and space. The Association now includes 12 constituent and nearly 40 affiliated organizations.

The Association is the world’s largest professional association for aerospace medicine and human performance. The Association membership is inclusive for any with shared interests in these fields. It includes physicians, scientists, nurses, physiologists, psychologists, human factors engineers, medical technicians, students and other researchers in this field. Most members are associated with the civil aviation and space industry, national aviation certification authorities (such as the FAA), national space organizations (such as the National Aeronautics and Space Administration-NASA), numerous national military organizations (such as the U.S. Department of Defense), and universities worldwide.

As expected for an association with global interests, a major portion of the Association membership is international. Members are present from numerous international organizations, global businesses, research institutions and governments.

The Association provides its expertise to a multitude of international and U.S. federal agencies on a broad range of issues relating to aviation and space medical standards, the physiological stresses of aviation and space flight, adaptation to changing and expanding related technologies in the air, in space, on the ground, and underwater. Through the dedicated efforts of the Association members, man's overall ability to function effectively in adverse environments has been expanded and specifically, the safety in flight has been improved.

PREFACE

The following material consists of the policies and standard operational procedures of the Association in the same order as our Association’s Bylaws. The Bylaws sections precede the Policies and Procedures portions applicable to them. The Bylaws are enclosed in boxes to differentiate them from the Policies and Procedures portions which are extensions of the Bylaws and much easier to modify than the Bylaws. This arrangement should also allow easy cross-reference between the two entities since that effort is necessary to ensure the Policies and Procedures are never in conflict with the Bylaws.
ARTICLE I. NAME
The name of this association shall be the Aerospace Medical Association.

Originally named the Aero Medical Association of the United States in 1929, the Association name was changed to the Aero Medical Association in May, 1947 to better reflect the international nature of the Association. The name of the Association was changed to the Aerospace Medical Association in May, 1959 to include the new and growing space medicine efforts.

ARTICLE II. VISION, MISSION, AND GOALS
B. Mission: Apply and advance scientific knowledge to promote and enhance health, safety, and performance of those involved in aerospace and related activities.
C. Definition: As used in this document, Aerospace Medicine is the multi-disciplinary application of professional and scientific knowledge, training, and research to promote and maintain the health, well-being, safety, and performance of those involved in aerospace activities.
D. Goals:
   (1) Provide opportunities for education and promote research.
   (2) Provide members opportunities for professional growth and development.
   (3) Represent the discipline of Aerospace Medicine to professional, commercial and governmental organizations and advocate policies and standards.

Governance of the Association is necessary to maintain a sound financial structure and ensure continuity of the Association in service to its goals.

The Association exists to ensure the highest ethical standards as they apply to the application and advancement of scientific knowledge to human adaptation and exploitation of the environment, and to relations among members with these shared interests. It seeks to advance and enrich the professional lives of its members by providing value-added services, a forum to integrate all of the aerospace medicine and related disciplines, and to facilitate members’ contributions to the field and the organization. It also conducts a public affairs program to advocate aerospace medicine issues with other professional organizations and governmental institutions.

The Association conducts the world’s largest Annual Scientific Meeting dedicated to aviation, space and environmental medicine. It publishes peer-reviewed research in its official journal, Aerospace Medicine and Human Performance (formerly Aerospace Medicine, the Journal of Aviation Medicine, and Aviation, Space, and Environmental Medicine [ASEM]). This journal includes peer-reviewed original research articles, abstracts from the annual scientific meeting and book reviews. Other regular features include letters to the editor, aerospace medicine reviews, editorials, a science and technology column, news items, a meetings calendar and news of members.

The process is based on the Fellows Election Process Assumptions document of March 18, 2007 and the Fellows Group Organizational Structure and Fellows Election Process Milestones document of March 23, 2007. Nominations for Fellow normally will not be considered for any candidate having less than 10 years of membership in the Aerospace Medical Association. Reports from Committee Chairs to the Council will be in a format stipulated by the President with concurrence of the Executive Committee and will be sent to the Executive Director for appropriate dispersal before Council meetings and as requested by the President.

Chairs of standing committees must be Association members and shall be appointed annually by the in-coming President in consultation with committee chairs, the leadership of the associated constituent organizations, if applicable, and the responsible AsMA Vice President. Consideration should be given to the continuity of committee chairs and deputy chairs as appropriate for some committees; however, committee chairs should typically not normally serve more than for 3 consecutive years subject to yearly approval of the President.

Any member expressing an interest in serving on a committee is assigned to that committee for a year unless the committee’s membership is defined by the Bylaws. NOTE: non-members of the Aerospace Medical Association may participate in committee discussions but they may not make motions or vote on committee actions.

All appointments should be made at the Association’s annual business meeting. Committee chairs must provide a list of all committee members to the Association Headquarters as soon as possible after but no later than one month following the annual meeting. Committees shall meet at least once during the annual meeting and conduct committee business via mail, fax, e-mail, conference call, or in person, as needed during the remainder of the year. All Committee meetings are open to any member of the Association. Incoming and outgoing committee members should meet in a joint session during the annual meeting to insure continuity of committee function and tasks. In those years in which the chair is to change, the incumbent chair shall formally relinquish the chair to the incoming chair toward the end of the joint session.

All committees are charged with making recommendations to Council via their meeting minutes or an Action Plan (Appendix V) to their reporting official on the Executive Committee. Oral reports during Council meetings are discouraged and will only be made during Council if Council must vote on a motion to be presented.
Names and titles of all Standing Committee members should be updated on the Association website. This is accomplished by forwarding the information to the Association Headquarters with the request that it be posted on the website and should occur soon after each Annual Scientific Meeting.

<tr>
<td>The Nominating Committee Responsibilities:</td>

<tr>
<td>• The AsMA Nominating Committee develops an annual slate of officers to fill the projected vacancies.</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>o President-Elect (one year term)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Two Vice Presidents (two year term)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>o Secretary or Treasurer (two year term)</td>
</tr>
<tr>

</tr>
<tr>
<td>• The Nominating Committee shall notify the AsMA Executive Director at the beginning of every nominating session planned by the Committee for each projected vacancy in order to allow notification of AsMA membership for those interested in seeking a nomination.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>• Should a sitting elected officer be nominated to a new elected position before completing the normal term for that elected position, the AsMA Nominating Committee</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
will nominate a new officer to fill the remaining term for that position (e.g., Treasurer is nominated for President-Elect but will have one year remaining on two year term. Nominating Committee nominates new Treasurer for a one year term)

• These processes will ensure a minimum of elected officers turnover in one year and helps to maintain good continuity in the AsMA Council and AsMA Executive Committee.

• The Nominating Committee solicits nominations from the committee members. Each committee member may reach out to the organizations they represent or the AsMA membership to solicit names of individuals recommended or interested in being nominated. Candidates for nomination are contacted to determine their willingness to serve and are strongly encouraged to provide biographical data and personal statements for review by the members of the Nominating Committee. Candidates are otherwise discouraged from directly campaigning to the Nominating Committee for votes.

• Committee members then conduct committee business by mail, conference call, e-mail or other electronic means to nominate persons for each vacancy. However, voting shall only be conducted via the system on the AsMA Nominating Committee website.

• Vote counting shall be un-weighted, without additional value added or subtracted to each vote by ranking or otherwise.

• Each individual nominated shall have been approved by receiving the greatest number of votes cast by the Nominating Committee. For positions with more than one opening (i.e., Vice President or Member-at-Large), the nominees receiving the highest number of votes would be selected (i.e., the top two Vice President nominees or top four Member-at-Large nominees.)

• Votes are counted by the Committee Chairperson and the vote count per candidate is shared with the Committee Deputy Chairperson to confirm the nominee selection. The count is subsequently offered to the other committee members upon their request.

• When the Nominating Committee’s selections have been completed for the year, including concurrence by the AsMA Executive Committee, the entire slate of nominees shall be reported to the AsMA Executive Director in order to announce these results to the AsMA membership before the Annual Scientific Meeting. The Chairperson will present these selections again orally at the opening ceremony of the Annual Scientific Meeting and during the Annual Business Meeting.

O. Registration Committee: The Registration Committee assists with onsite registration activities associated with the Annual Scientific Meeting. This includes distribution of registration materials and coordination of tickets for events.

Registration Committee

Registration Committee Responsibilities:

• The Chair holds a pre-registration organization meeting with the committee members on Sunday prior to the opening of on-site registration activities

• The Chair serves as the liaison with the Association Headquarters Operations Manager during on-site registration activities
Committee members staff the Advance Registration booths, handing out registration packets to all who registered in advance of the meeting.

Committee members staff the Honors Night table, carefully assigning seating for those planning to attend Honors Night.

Committee members collect tickets for all lunch and reception events; tickets are provided to the Association Staff for accurate event counts.

P. Resolutions Committee: Resolutions may be proposed to the Resolutions Committee by individual members, by standing and special committees, Constituent Organizations, the Executive Committee, and the Council. Proposed resolutions that have been reviewed and coordinated by the Resolutions Committee shall be submitted to Council. If disapproved by Council, the resolution will be returned to the Resolutions Committee for further review and coordination. If approved by Council, the resolution will be presented to the Association membership. Proposed resolutions will be published on the Association’s website for a period of at least 60 days to offer members the opportunity for review and comment. Members of the Association will be notified by electronic means when resolutions are posted on the website for review and when posted for a vote. Members may submit comments to the Resolutions Committee within the 60-day comment period. Comments received from members may be incorporated into the proposed resolution by the Resolutions Committee, after which the revised resolution shall be resubmitted to Council. After final review and approval by Council, the draft resolution will be posted on the Association’s website for a vote by the membership. Association membership shall have final approval of resolutions. Voting on resolutions by the Association members can be performed remotely by electronic means or in person during Annual Business Meetings of the Association. Electronic voting on proposed resolutions will be open for a period of at least 30 days. A quorum of 100 Association members is necessary for a vote, and a majority of those voting members is required for final approval of a proposed resolution. Voting will not be terminated prematurely when a quorum is achieved but will remain available for the entire 30-day period. If a quorum is not met at the end of the 30-day period, the voting period may be extended up to an additional 30 days.

AsMA Research Funding Evaluation Criteria

The following six criteria are designed to assist AsMA in determining whether and how funding is to be allocated in response to proposals for research and analysis that it might receive. The aim is to make such funding allocation decisions on an objective basis, taking into account the merits of each application and the extent to which they address these six criteria.

A proposal should be assigned a score of 1 to 5 for each criterion, using the supporting questions provided to assist in determining the score for a given proposal. Before scoring begins, evaluators should decide whether to weight any top-level criterion more or less heavily than others. A low score in any single criterion may be sufficient to justify a decision to decline a proposal. The results also provide a rubric for evaluators to communicate the basis of a decision to the authors of a proposal.

Criterion 1: Research Impact

- Does the proposed research address a significant need or gap in the aerospace medicine and/or human performance literature?
- Does the research have a clearly identified potential to make a significant contribution to the practice of aerospace medicine/human performance?
- Does the research have a clearly defined stakeholder/end user?
- Does this research have a clearly articulated plan for the dissemination of the results to a wider aerospace medicine and human performance audience?

Criterion 2: Research Innovation

- Does the proposed research have the potential to create new knowledge in aerospace medicine?
• How original is the proposed research, in terms of the research questions to be addressed?
• Does the proposed research involve the novel application of current technology or methods?
• Does the proposed research involve the development of innovative technology or methodology?
• Does the research involve a new way of synthesizing or representing existing knowledge or technology?

Criterion 3: Research Approach
• Are the aims of the research clearly articulated?
• Is the research based on a known gap in the existing literature?
• Is the research design appropriate and the rationale for choosing it clear?
• Are the research methods and analysis appropriate/accepted, and is the rationale for choosing them clear?
• Is the research approach feasible, in terms of proposed timeframe to complete, subject numbers expected, etc.?
• Has the research project been reviewed and approved by an appropriate human research ethics committee or animal use and care committee, or is there a plan for such review and approval?
• Has a comprehensive risk management plan for the research project been developed and provided?

Criterion 4: Research Team
• What are the qualifications, training, experience and affiliations of the researchers and are they appropriate for the proposed research?
• Are the researchers experienced in the proposed research area and with the methodology proposed?
• Do the researchers have demonstrable experience in knowledge translation (i.e. dissemination of research findings via publications and/or conference presentations)?
• Are there any perceived, potential or actual conflicts of interest among the researchers?

Criterion 5: Research Environment
• Are the facilities, personnel and infrastructure adequate, available and appropriate for the proposed research?
• Is the proposed funding sought sufficient to allow the project to be completed?
• Does the requested funding represent maximum research value per dollar of AsMA support?
• Does this research project represent continuation of existing work?
• Does the project have potential to improve co-operative ventures between the applicant institution(s) and other research institutes?
• Does the proposed research project encourage appropriate multi-disciplinary collaboration?

Criterion 6: Return on Investment

• Does this project have a direct or indirect benefit to AsMA?
• How does this research enable AsMA to meet its goals?
• Does the research result in a defined outcome, such as a product, report or published paper?

R. Scientific Program Committee: The Scientific Program Committee is responsible for the development and execution of the scientific program for each year’s Annual Scientific Meeting. The Chair, with the help of committee members, arranges for abstract submission and review, scheduling of scientific sessions, and presentation of the scientific program.

Scientific Program Committee

The Program Committee has the responsibilities of planning the Annual Scientific program.

- The Chair with the assistance from the Deputy Chair, Panel, Slide and Poster Chairs will coordinate with the Association staff regarding Abstract submission
- The annual Program Committee meeting is held following the fall Council meeting to provide peer review of abstracts submitted and planning the Scientific Sessions
- The Chair assigns Co-Chairs for each scientific session and coordinates guidelines for session chairs; daily during the annual meeting, collects data regarding canceled presentations and number of attendees at sessions
- The Chair ensures requirements for CME documentation are completed
- Abstract Submission, Review, and Cancellation
Following the close of an Annual Scientific Meeting, post-meeting evaluation forms are analyzed to determine the educational value of the meeting.

Analysis identifies knowledge and practice gap areas for the next Annual Scientific Meeting. Analysis helps the President, Scientific Program Committee Chair and the Executive Director (General Meeting Chair) establish a theme for the next meeting.

Theme and focus areas are published in the August issue of Aviation Space and Environmental Medicine “Call for Papers”.

On-line abstract submission website opens September 1 and remains open through the end of October each year for the following year’s Annual Scientific Meeting.

All abstracts must be submitted via the online submission site and adhere to the rules and guidelines therein.

All abstracts are carefully reviewed by the Scientific Program Committee members in a rigorous blinded peer-review process in mid-November.

All abstracts found acceptable by the Scientific Program Committee are organized into the scientific program for the next Annual Scientific Meeting – abstract authors are notified of the Scientific Program Committee’s approval/disapproval decisions following the mid-November peer-review process.

All approved abstracts are published in the March edition of the Association journal each year. The March journal serves as the Annual Scientific Meeting program for members.

Authors of approved abstracts must notify the Association Scientific Program Committee Chair prior to the Annual Scientific Meeting if they cannot attend the meeting. This allows the journal staff to cancel the approved abstract in the journal or in the meeting addendum.

Authors of approved abstracts who fail to notify the Association Scientific Program Committee Chair or the journal staff in advance of the meeting and then fail to present their paper, will not be allowed to submit the same abstract for consideration for a future Annual Scientific Meeting since the abstract was published and not canceled.

The Institutional Review Board shall follow the guidance of the Belmont Report, the Declaration of Helsinki, and other pertinent professional codes of ethics related to the protection of human research subjects.

The Aerospace Medical Association shall only endorse or accept for membership or affiliation, corporations, businesses, advertisers, exhibitors, donors, and other groups or organizations that are legal by United States law, of good reputation, and whose business or functional activities are congruent with the mission and goals of the Aerospace Medical Association.

CONFLICT OF INTEREST POLICY

The Aerospace Medical Association is a non-profit, tax exempt organization.

- Maintenance of its tax exempt status is important both for its continued financial stability and for the receipt of contributions and public support. Therefore, the Internal Revenue Service as well as state corporate and tax officials, view the operations of the Aerospace Medical Association as a public trust which is subject to scrutiny by and accountability to such governmental authorities as well as to members of the public.
- Consequently, there exists between the Aerospace Medical Association and its Council, officers, directors and management employees a fiduciary duty which carries with it a broad and unbending duty of loyalty and fidelity. The Council, officers, directors, management employees and members have the responsibility of administering the affairs of the Aerospace Medical Association honestly and prudently, and of exercising their best care, skill, and judgment for the sole benefit of the Aerospace Medical Association. Those persons shall exercise the utmost good faith in all transactions involved in their duties, and they shall not use their positions with the Aerospace Medical Association or knowledge gained thereof for their personal benefit. The interests of the organization must have the first priority in all decisions and actions.

- This statement is directed not only to Council members and officers, but to all employees and members who can influence the actions of the Aerospace Medical Association. For example, this would include all who make purchasing decisions, all other persons who might be described as “management personnel,” and all who have proprietary information concerning the Aerospace Medical Association.

- Conflicts of interest may arise in the relations of Council members, officers, directors, management employees and members with any of the following third parties:
  - Persons and firms supplying goods and services to the Aerospace Medical Association.
  - Persons and firms from whom the Aerospace Medical Association leases property and equipment.
  - Persons and firms with whom the Aerospace Medical Association is dealing or planning to deal in connection with the gift, purchase or sale of real estate, securities, or other property.
  - Competing or affinity organizations.
  - Donors and others supporting the Aerospace Medical Association.
  - Agencies, organizations, and associations which affect the operations of the Aerospace Medical Association.
  - Family members, friends, and other employees.

A material conflicting interest may be defined as an interest, direct or indirect, with any persons and firms mentioned above. Such an interest might arise through:

- Owning stock or holding debt or other proprietary interests in any third party dealing with the Aerospace Medical Association.

- Holding office, serving on the board, participating in management, or otherwise employed (or formerly employed) in any third party dealing with the Aerospace Medical Association.

- Receiving remuneration for services with respect to individual transactions involving the Aerospace Medical Association.

- Using the Aerospace Medical Association’s time, personnel, equipment, supplies, or good will for other than the Aerospace Medical Association’s approved activities, programs, and purposes, except that minor, reasonable use is allowable at the discretion of the Executive Director, Executive Committee, or Council.
• Receiving personal gifts or loans from third parties dealing with the Aerospace Medical Association. Receipt of any gift is disapproved except gifts of nominal value which could be refused without discourtesy. No personal gift of money should ever be accepted. Honoraria can be accepted for services provided.

The areas of conflicting interest listed, and the relations in those areas which may give rise to conflict, are not exhaustive. Conceivably, conflicts might arise in other areas or through other relations. It is assumed that the directors, officers, management employees and members will recognize such areas and relation by analogy.

The fact that one of the interests described above exists does not mean necessarily that a conflict exists, or that the conflict, if it exists, is material enough to be of practical importance, or if material that upon full disclosure of all relevant facts and circumstances that it is necessarily adverse to the interests of the Aerospace Medical Association.

However, it is the policy of the Council that the existence of any of the interests described shall be disclosed before any transaction is consummated. It shall be the continuing responsibility of the Council, directors, officers, management employees and members to scrutinize their transactions and outside business interests and relationships for potential conflicts and to immediately make such disclosures.

Disclosure should be made according to the Aerospace Medical Association procedures.

• Duty to Disclose – In connection with any actual or possible conflict of interest, an interested person must disclose the existence of the conflict of interest and be given the opportunity to disclose all material facts to the Council or Executive Committee.

• Recusal of Self – Any interested person may recuse himself or herself at any time from involvement in any decision or discussion in which the interested person believes he or she has or may have a conflict of interest, without going through the process for determining whether a conflict of interest exists.

• Determining Whether a Conflict of Interest Exists – After disclosure of the financial interest and all material facts, and after any discussion with the interested person, he/she shall leave the Council or Executive Committee meeting while the determination of a conflict of interest is discussed and voted upon. The remaining Council or Executive Committee members shall decide if a conflict of interest exists.

• Procedures for Addressing the Conflict of Interest

• An interested person may make a presentation at the Council or Executive Committee meeting, but after the presentation, he/she shall leave the meeting during the discussion of, and vote on, the transaction or arrangement involving the possible conflict of interest.

• The President shall, if appropriate, appoint a disinterested person or committee to investigate alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement.

• After exercising due diligence, the Council or Executive Committee shall determine whether the Aerospace Medical Association can obtain with reasonable efforts a more advantageous transaction or arrangement from a person or entity that would not give rise to a conflict of interest.
• If a more advantageous transaction or arrangement is not reasonably possible under circumstances not producing a conflict of interest, the Council or Executive Committee shall determine by a majority vote of the disinterested members whether the transaction or arrangement is in the Aerospace Medical Association’s best interest, for its own benefit, and whether it is fair and reasonable. In conformity with the above determination, it shall make its decision as to whether to enter into the transaction or arrangement.

• Violations of the Conflict of Interest Policy
  o If the Council or Executive Committee has reasonable cause to believe a member has failed to disclose actual or possible conflicts of interest, it shall inform the member of the basis for such belief and afford the member an opportunity to explain the alleged failure to disclose.
  o If, after hearing the member’s response and after making further investigation as warranted by the circumstances, the Council or Executive Committee determines the member has failed to disclose an actual or possible conflict of interest, it shall take appropriate disciplinary and corrective action.

• The minutes of the Council or Executive Committee shall contain:
  o The names of the persons who disclosed or otherwise were found to have a financial interest in connection with an actual or possible conflict of interest, the nature of the financial interest, any action taken to determine whether a conflict of interest was present, and the Council’s or Executive Committee’s decision as to whether a conflict of interest in fact existed.
  o The names of the persons who were present for discussions and votes relating to the transaction or arrangement, the content of the discussion, including any alternatives to the proposed transaction or arrangement, and a record of any votes taken in connection with the proceedings.

Proposed amendments must be communicated to the Association Headquarters by the end of December and approved by two-thirds vote of the Council members for consideration at the Annual Business Meeting.
