

Thank You!
Corporate and Sustaining Members of the Aerospace Medical Association
Now in Our 88th Year!

The financial resources of individual members alone cannot sustain the Association's pursuit of its broad international goals and objectives. Our 88-year history is documented by innumerable medical contributions toward flying health and safety that have become daily expectations by the world's entire flying population—commercial, military, and private aviation. However, support from private and industrial sources is essential. The following organizations, who share the Association's objectives or have benefitted from its past or current activities, have affirmed their support of the Association through Corporate Membership.

Adams Advanced Aero Technology	Enviro-nics, Inc.
Aerospace Medical, PLC	Environmental Tectonics Corporation
Aerospace Medicine Residency Program, UTMB	GO ₂ Altitude
Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association	Human Solutions of North America, Inc.
Armed Forces Benefit Association	Indonesian Association of Aerospace Medicine
Aviation Medicine Advisory Service	InoMedic Health Applications, Inc. (IHA)

AEROSPACE MEDICAL ASSOCIATION is an organization devoted to charitable, educational, and scientific purposes. The Association was founded when the rapid expansion of aviation made evident the need for physicians with specialized knowledge of the flight environment. Since then, physicians have been joined in this Association by professionals from many fields and from many countries, all linked by a common interest in the health and safety of those who venture into challenging environments.

AEROSPACE MEDICINE AND HUMAN PERFORMANCE, formerly Aviation, Space, and Environmental Medicine, is published monthly by the Aerospace Medical Association, a non-profit charitable, educational, and scientific organization of physicians, physiologists, psychologists, nurses, human factors and human performance specialists, engineers, and others working to solve the problems of human existence in threatening environments on or beneath the Earth or the sea, in the air, or in outer space. The original scientific articles in this journal provide the latest available information on investigations into such areas as changes in ambient pressure, motion sickness, increased or decreased gravitational forces, thermal stresses, vision, fatigue, circadian rhythms, psychological stress, artificial environments, predictors of success, health maintenance, human factors engineering, clinical care, and others. This journal also publishes notes on scientific news and technical items of interest to the general reader, and provides teaching material and reviews for health care professionals.
